Crawford Co. Historical Society

The Crawford County Historical membership drive is moving steadily along. It is now over the 100 mark and even though we might not reach our goal for a while, we are happy to know that people are sending in their money for a membership in the Society. So far this has been our only source of revenue to keep the museum open.

For the month of August, the Society is offering a special membership rate of $1.00 for persons age 55 and over. For those who have not yet become members, this is a very special time to join. Stop at the Historical Building and sign up or call the RSVP office at 348-8322 or drop it in the mail to Elmer Fenton, 501 Lake Street, City.

We have had some wonderful things loaned to us and some things given as an outright gift. These will all be on display during the Milltown Festival when the Society holds open house at the museum on Saturday, August 16th. We hope to list some of these things in next week's paper along with the names of the people who made it possible for the society to have them.

UNITED STATES ARMED FORCES CARAVAN

The Grayling City Park will be the site of a special Armed Forces Bicentennial display, to be held one day only, Monday, August 11th from 12:00 noon to 10:00 p.m. Grayling is one of 28 towns in Michigan chosen for the display, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Defense. Housed in four large vans with expandable sides, the exhibit is an interesting and educational display. Admission is free.

Each branch of the armed services, Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marines, will be represented in the display, with one van for each unit. According to Air Force Colonel Robert J. Spence, Project Officer, the exhibit vans will use the most modern equipment and techniques to enhance the presentations making them entertaining as well as educational.

All of the exhibits will celebrate the accomplishments of the armed forces throughout our nation's 200 years.

The Army exhibits will objectively portray the Army's history and contributions to the Nation in six areas: Wartime Role, Military Governance, Community Assistance, Technology and Medicine, Exploration, and Contributions to the Nation. The "walk-through" exhibits will allow visitors to move through the vans in a circular pattern.

The Marine Corps exhibits will depict the "Heritage of the Corps" by telling the Corps' history and its contributions in five sections: Revolutionary War, the Century of 1798-1898, the Marine Band, The Twentieth Century and the Marines Today.

The Navy exhibits will portray the Navy's role in America's first 200 years through selected historical events which illustrate their contributions to the Nation. Some exhibits will depict the Navy during wartime, while others will concentrate on Navy developments which have made life easier for most Americans. A variety of impressive exhibits will tell spectators of those

PRESENTED BY WALT KOZICKI

Mark Twain to Appear In Grayling This Friday

This Friday night, August 8, a unique combination of theatrical art and literary material will enlighten playgoers in a show that is the first of its kind to be presented in this area. The production is a one-man play entitled "Mark Twain". It will be presented in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at Grayling High School. Curtain will be at 8:15. Admission is $1.50 at the door.

The play will be directed and acted by Walt Kozicki, technical advisor is Howard Taylor. In order to be transformed into the elderly Twain, Walt will have to wear special makeup which requires three hours to apply.

The material for the show was compiled by Hal Holbrook, who has portrayed Twain on stages throughout the world. But not until recently have other actors attempted to accomplish what Mr. Holbrook has. The show consists mainly of Mark Twain (age 70) relating certain humorous aspects of his life style and experience as well as a selected reading from "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn". When performing on stage, Walt will be required to portray the elderly Twain as well as various other characters from "Huckleberry Finn". This illusion is very difficult since, while still in character and using the old man's voice, Walt will attempt to sound like the young Huckleberry.

Walt's previous roles in Grayling include: Snoopy, "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown"; Cornelius Hackle, "Hello Dolly"; and Teyve in "Fiddler on the Roof". He also appeared in "Fiddler on the Roof" as Lazar Wolf last winter at Michigan State University.

It should be noted that although the show is quite humorous, its content does not usually appeal to young children.

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1975

Notes From Our Corner—

Welcome to the interesting world of a country editor...

We dislike writing about our family — but then, how many of our readers can qualify as a golf widower?

Everything in our household is perfect, until, the big boss is unable to spend her allotted time on the links — which happened last weekend — a mishap sprained her ankle, causing 4 days to be on crutches, and, over the weekend — God forbid.

Our only salvation during the intensive care she received at home was that our daughter Toni, and the bigger boss, T. J., was available to administer the treatment our golfer deserved.

We never realized that Thanksgiving Day could last 4 days.

Sometimes it is hard for us old fellas to remember back to the day when we courted and eventually picked our spouse.

Our gal, Kathie, has been selected. She will take her vows this Saturday.

The entire staff of the Avalanche wish you and Gary the best happiness this world can provide.

An added reminder — in case you by-passed the front page to get to this column — Crawford County is the place to be the next two weekends. Join the fun at Frederic's Homecoming this weekend, and Grayling's Mill-Town Festival next week.

It is an interesting world!

THANK YOU

As we leave Grayling, we would like to thank our friends who have meant so much to us and wish them the best; to our former customers, thank you for your business.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

GOD'S CHOICE IN CHURCH ATTENDANCE

All three God ordained institutions are under attack in the world today, the home, the government and the Church. It is a very common thing to hear people say, "I can be a good Christian without going to Church." Let us examine this popular cliché.

"And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins." Hebrews 10:24-26.

Church attendance always involves a moral decision. When a Christian who is not ill or providentially hindered fails to attend an available, Bible-believing, Fundamental Church he commits a sin for which he must answer at the Judgment Seat of Christ. Hebrews 10:27. In fact "the assembling of ourselves together" becomes more and more important "as ye see the day approaching." There has never been a time in the history of Christianity when the Bible says it was more important to attend Church than today.

All Christians should make every effort to attend Church each Sunday. Paul in instructing the Corinthian Church in giving assumed that all Churches gather together in assembly on Sunday. I Corinthians 16:1,2. A good Christian motto is, "Attend the house of God every time the doors are open."

Jesus Christ founded but one organism to carry out His spiritual program in this age of Grace, the local New Testament Church. The N.T. epistles were written to be read and studied in the Churches. "Paul and Timothy, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi with the bishops and deacons." Phil 1:1. The epistle of Philippians was written to the Church which included all the saints who were with the bishops and deacons. Bishop is one title for a pastor which speaks of his oversight of the Church.

Deacons are selected by the Church to assist in the work of the Church. To avoid a local N.T. Church is to avoid the only organism which Christ founded for your spiritual fulfillment.

Your Church attendance is not only important to God and to yourself, it is very important to others. Parents can never hope to see their children continue in church unless they go themselves. If you are a Christian who seldom attends Church, how can you expect lead your unsaved friends and neighbors to attend Church and come under the sound of the gospel? Some of the best reasons for faithful Church attendance live under or near your own roof.

Church attendance is more than the choice of a Christian, it is the command of their God. Failure of a Christian to attend Church is a sin against God, Himself and all those with whom he has contact. Please read your Bible and pray that you may be led to attend "the Church of God's Choice" this Sunday. (adv.)

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Grayling Sheriff Department, and especially Tim Coe of the Marine Division, for the prompt attention given my request for assistance in disposing of a very dangerous obstacle in a bathing area at Lake Margrethe. A call Thursday afternoon, late, received attention early Friday morning. The obstacle was retrieved and disposed of with no injuries to any swimmers. Good work, fellows, and sincere thanks.

Northern Counties Assn. To Set Goal Priorities

(By Louise Sullenger)
County officials from 22 of the 27-member Northern Michigan Counties Association last week refused to accept the resignation of Weldon Johnson.

Johnson, of Montmorency County, was one of the founders of the organization and has served as its chief officer for the past three years. In his remarks to the group he expressed disappointment in the lack of support given his county in its recent legal entanglement with the State Tax Commission and the Michigan courts. Five large southern Michigan counties had offered to join in the litigation, Johnson said.

The suit was based on denial of due process of law to all citizens of Michigan. As a result of the suit, the Michigan Legislature has amended the law but only for the year 1975, according to Johnson. The due process denied was the right to appeal increased property tax assessments caused by the state equalization process. The legislative action did nothing to reduce the tax assessment in Montmorency County, but through joint efforts of county tax-supported entities, millages were reduced so that individual tax bills will not reflect the full $21 million increase placed on the tax rolls by the state.

Most of the day was spent in reviewing past accomplishments of the organization. Commissioners lauded Johnson for his past leadership and were severe in their criticism of their own apathy and complacency.

Before the meeting ended, Johnson asked that he be given a leave of absence until the Association determined where it wanted to go and how it expected to get there. His request was granted and the Board of Directors is to meet in early August to set goal priorities. Some of the issues discussed were shifting the cost of education from property taxes, allowing only property owners to vote on ad valorem tax issues, and a revamping of the obsolete tax structure of the state. They also stressed the need for county commissioners to become more knowledgeable about tax laws and the necessity of getting this information to the people. The teacher strike legislation was unanimously opposed in its present form and Governor William G. Milliken's office was informed of this opposition.

Rodney Parker, acting director of Northeast Regional Planning Commission, offered the services of his agency to the Association. He is to return in September with cost figures for the work involved in handling the clerical work.

Monthly meetings of the organization are held on the fourth Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the Crawford County Building, Grayling.

$5,000 grant to leave

A bunch of the guys were sitting around brainstorming on the problems of the day—specifically on some welfare problems.

Included in the group were Dr. John T. Dempsey, director of the Michigan Department of Social Services; Wilber Cohen of the University of Michigan, who was Kennedy-era Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Dr. Dan Kruger, expert in labor and manpower and such things at Michigan State University; and maybe one or two others.

One of the guys threw out the idea that one way Michigan might be able to cut its welfare costs would be to pay a reverse bounty.

For all welfare recipients who would agree to leave the state border, give them its best wishes and check for $5,000 each.

Radical as it may sound, a going-away check for $5,000 to get a perennial off the welfare rolls would be money ahead for the state.

At least, that's the way the idea got some airing, according to Dr. Kruger, who was one of the brainstormers and who outlined the thought at a recent convention of the Michigan Press Association.

Kruger said the idea really wasn't considered seriously, because of too many problems involved in putting it into effect. But he brought an otherwise drowsy audience of editors and publishers toward the edge of their chairs with the thought anyway.

Apparently the idea brushed around enough to require a more formal denial from Dr. Dempsey. Appearing in public print the week after Kruger's rather informal mention of the idea was Dempsey's assertion that "there is certainly no such program floating around in this department."

Identifying Cohen as the originator of the idea at the brainstorm session, Dempsey also turned more specifically to some of the problems to which Dan Kruger had merely alluded.

"What if someone came in and said 'I need $2,000 to go look for a job in another state,' and he came back two months later without one?" Dempsey commented.

"And what if another state offered $6,000 for people to leave there?"

Dempsey indicated there might be some conflict with the U.S. Supreme Court ruling on welfare residency, or the idea might even be illegal.

"I can't see how the federal government would contribute money for any one state to pay money to send people to another state," Dempsey said.

True, it does sound a bit illogical. But then, that would be in keeping with how some of our welfare and compensation programs work in practice, wouldn't it?

For example, like when someone who is unemployed can be paid more money from government than many working families who are not on welfare?

Or when Michigan can set its benefits so high that they attract the idled and the dependent from other parts of the country, creating virtual traffic jams in some stateline counties?

So I would suggest to Dr. Dempsey: Don't sell the federal government short on some of these plans, or the state either, for that matter.

Maybe the farewell grant is worth serious consideration.

I would offer one other way to reduce the welfare burden might be to tighten up on welfare eligibility and to make the benefits somewhat less attractive.

But then, that's almost as radical and illogical as a $5,000 grant to leave the state, isn't it?

your week ahead BY DR. A.W. DAMIS

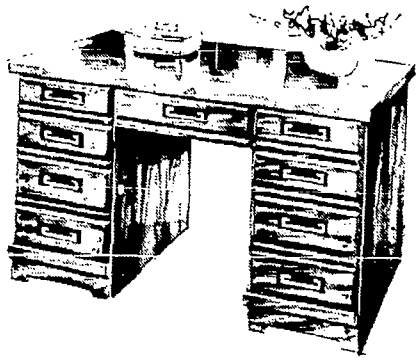

Forecast Period: August 10 to August 16

ARIES Mar. 21-Apr. 19	Take care Aries! According to Stellar Patterns, you must not share long held secrets with a new acquaintance. Also, old friendship might taper off.
TAURUS Apr. 20-May 20	Most members of your sign face a week of serious talks with the opposite sex. Make certain that the wrong word doesn't snowball into big things.
GEMINI May 21-June 20	You should know about mouse traps! Anyway, it seems as though someone in authority would like to put your nose on the cheese. Deal with superiors, cautiously.
MOONCHILD June 21-July 22	Whether money, or the lack of it... is the root of all evil, could be controversial. An exchange of words because of finances is in the scheme of things.
LEO July 23-Aug. 22	Being humble, most certainly, is not one of your stronger points. This week, however, paying tribute to an associate, whether or not it's deserved, will pay off.
VIRGO Aug. 23-Sept. 22	All the aches and itches that comes with being too involved in someone else's problems, shows in your chart. This week, try to mind your own business.
LIBRA Sept. 23-Oct. 22	If you disapprove, keep silent! During this cosmic cycle, you'll plunge into a mysterious mood. Meaning? You'll misread an associate's motives. Incidentally, your age will be important, this week.
SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 21	With almost no effort on your part, as a matter of fact, in spite of yourself... it's highly probable that you'll gain financially, in one way or another.
SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22-Dec. 21	An advancement at your job, task or project crisscrosses your chart. As a matter of fact, this should be a fine week for personal and domestic achievements.
CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 19	No question about it, you're prone to promise far more than you can handle. Guard against scheduling yourself on someone else's ability to deliver.
AQUARIUS Jan. 20-Feb. 18	No matter how corny it might sound—don't neglect to pay a minor bill. Also, take care of a minor repair, otherwise, it'll parlay into a major reversal.
PISCES Feb. 19-Mar. 20	Being a victim of systemized delusions, when it comes to affairs of the heart, isn't new to you, Pisces! Proceed with the opposite sex, cautiously.

Mother has a problem

(Jim Fitzgerald is still on vacation. This wilted column is reprinted on demand of the National Lettuce Assoc.)

The evening the kids found out about their mother, I tried to explain the situation to them this way:

"Everyone has some little thing they can't help worrying about. I don't mean a big thing, like the war or health or paying bills. But something little. Like I always worry on Saturday nights that I forgot and set the alarm clock by mistake and it'll wake me up on Sunday morning when the law allows me to sleep in. I keep waking up and checking, to make sure it's not set. I lose sleep Saturday nights worrying about losing sleep Sunday mornings.

"Your mother worries about someone taking her salad."

We were at the fancy Steering Wheel restaurant in Detroit. It was the first time the kids had been in a place which presented so many threats to their mother's salad. At home, all Pat has to worry about is the cats. But hovering around the Steering Wheel diners are dozens of waiters, waitresses, stewards and water boys. Not to mention a wedding party whose white clothing made my nervous wife embrace her lettuce.

At the completion of the meal, Pat went to the restroom, thus giving me a chance to explain her conduct to the children. It had been quite a dinner...

6 courses: appetizers, soup, salad, stuffed pancakes, the main course, sherbet and coffee. Notice that salad was number 3. The idea is to eat one course at a time, with the waiter removing the remains of the previous course before bringing the next one.

Pat's problem is that she wants to keep her salad throughout the entire dinner and she is afraid the hired help doesn't understand this. At some point in her early childhood she was badly scarred by a graspy waitress. Little Pat's chopped garden with French dressing disappeared half eaten, and then the prime rib never materialized. She went to bed hungry that night and had nightmares about sneaky waiters, stolen Roquefort and starving children in China. She awoke shook but determined. She vowed to never again part with her salad until after dessert.

At the Steering Wheel that night, every time a restaurant employee neared our table, Pat's arm encircled her salad and she automatically said those now familiar words: "I'd like to keep my salad, please."

Before that long meal was over, everyone in the restaurant knew Pat wanted to keep her salad. When the piano player asked for requests, Pat requested that she be allowed to keep her salad. And he sang it for her.

The doorman went into the middle of the boulevard and warned traffic to keep moving and stay away from Pat's salad.

The bartender became so concerned he tried to call a policeman to stand guard. But you can never find a policeman when you need one in Detroit...

Anyway, that's how it went. And I was glad when Pat went to the ladies' room, so I could explain her phobia to the kids.

They looked at her with more understanding when she returned to the table and took her salad out of her purse and resumed eating it.

'The Wind and the Lion'

To Open Here PINES THEATRE

HOUGHTON LAKE, MICHIGAN

MGM's "The Wind and the Lion," one of 1975's biggest and most exciting films, sweeps to the screen in the tradition of "Ben-Hur" and "Doctor Zhivago." The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presentation for United Artists release, will open August 20 at the Pines Theatre.

The story of a lovely American widow who is kidnapped for political ransom by a handsome, ruthless Berber pirate and rescued by Teddy Roosevelt's U.S. Marines, it stars Sean Connery as the Arab chieftain in a characterization unlike any he has done before; Candice Bergen as the courageous and captivating American; Brian Keith in an amazing look-alike, act-alike portrait of Teddy Roosevelt; and John Huston as Secretary of State John Hay.

Filled with panoramic action and seasoned with romance, "The Wind and the Lion" is explosively written and directed by gifted young John ("Dillinger") Milius and produced by Herb Jaffe. Huge battle sequences, some staged on vast desert vistas not seen since "Lawrence of Arabia," mix with fascinating personal stories to create a sweeping family entertainment.

Brian Keith plays the part of Theodore Roosevelt in "The Wind and the Lion," which tells of an incident in Morocco during his administration. The picture is an MGM presentation for United Artists release and will open August 20 at the Pines Theatre.

EDITOR'S MAILBOX

To The Editor:

The property owners around Lake Margrethe have been furnished considerable information about the sewer proposal by Township officials and the Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association, reportedly, without favor, for or against, the proposition.

However, the facts do not, in my opinion, bear this out. The Township definitely has a responsibility and a problem in regards to the critical sewage problem in the Karen Woods area which requires immediate action, and which, in my opinion, was the basic reason for the current interest in a sewer project. The Lake Margrethe Property Owners Association, by their own acts, seemingly do favor the sewage proposal and the underlining of their statement of neutrality is contradictory to their actions. They spent the members' money, to send out the information recommending the sewer proposal, to a total of 900 property owners, whereas the total membership is only 202, in apparent cooperation with the Township whom I assume, furnished the flyers. Further, at the recent meeting of the Association, the President ordered that people present confine themselves to questions about the proposal, and enter no discussion as to its merits; yet the President brought forward and introduced a Mr. Young, who gave a very strong pitch for the sewer proposal. Obviously if the Association were neutral, they would not bar objective criticism on one hand, and promote favorable comment on the other. As a result, I am no longer a member.

Further, it has come to my attention, but not verified as yet, that there is a State ruling that anyone not having a sewer problem, and living more than 500 feet from the water's edge of a lake, can NOT be forced to tie into a sewer system, as was told us was compulsory, at the meeting. Why were we not so informed by the Association?

It seems to me that the current Association, like the previous one, appears to be directed and controlled by and for the benefit of the local year-around residents, and us property owners who are mostly week-enders, yet are approximately 80% of the total, have no representation. It is a fair prediction that whatever is done regarding the sewer system, will be decided by the local residents AFTER the season is over. Resorters should, therefore, DEMAND fair representation by the Township and the Association, and request that every one of the 900 persons sent flyers by the Association, also be sent a ballot to enable them to vote, for or against, the sewer proposal - and arrange for the votes to be examined and counted by an unbiased body.

As for the sewer proposal, this area of Karen Woods is really a suburb of the City of Grayling, is probably 100% local year - around residents who mostly derive their living from the City of Grayling's employment. It would therefore appear to be a problem for the Township and the City of Grayling to solve, and not at the expense of the week-end resorters around the Lake. And while Eagle Point and Danish Landing may sometime in the foreseeable future, be a potential pollution danger, I have yet to see or hear any proof submitted that they are a problem now. There is no problem that I know of in the Oak Park area, and no realistic reason to be involved, other than the need for our pocket-books.

Seems to me, we should get together and form a Lake Margrethe RESORTERS Association, if we are going to have proper and fair representation in this area.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

It isn't easy to explain how the Church can help you find strength and comfort. You can't prove it by mathematical equations, but once you experience it, you have no doubts. And, having felt it, you want to share this deep, abiding peace with others.

No matter how stormy it is outside, in the Church you can find peace. Isn't it wonderful to know that you can take all your cares and worries to God and feel His peace and quiet? Then, having found this peace, you can carry it with you wherever you go. Through the Church you can help others find it.

Peace — God's peace — the Church — God's Church. Are you acquainted with them?

GET-ACQUAINTED RECEPTION—Colonel Robert Weliver, assistant commander of the 38th Infantry Division, confers with Colonel George E. Thayer Jr., who heads the team of Regular Army evaluators on hand for the National Guardsmen's annual training. Also present at the Sunday evening get-acquainted reception were Major General Robert G. Moorhead (left, rear), the division commander, and Major General Alfred F. Ahner, Indiana Adjutant General. (38th Infantry Division Photo)

Training

Wednesday afternoon. Combat training will attempt to create the type of environment soldiers would confront on the battlefield.

"This year's training will be aimed at making the cutting edge of combat - the small fighting unit - more proficient," according to Maj. Gen. Robert G. Moorhead, Indianapolis, the division's commanding general. "In this day when military defense rests more and more on reserve forces, the individual soldier has to be ready."

Features of this year's maneuvers include the use of more sophisticated bridging techniques for water-crossing exercises, training on the 90mm recoilless rifle - which the division has not used before - and training with ground surveillance radar.

Major units participating in the two week encampment are the 76th Brigade, 46th Brigade, 38th Division Artillery, 113th Engineer Battalion, 138th Signal Battalion, 38th Aviation Battalion and 38th Division Support Command. Other support units from Ohio, Iowa, Kansas and Regular Army installations are involved, as well.

Bid Farewell To Exchange Student

Tearful farewells were bid to Christina Ralston, of Sao Paulo, Brazil, when the Philip Townley family took her to the Traverse City Airport on July 24 for her flight home. Christina lived with the Townley family for six months as a Youth for Understanding exchange student. Ted Schlaak also accompanied the Townleys to the airport.

Before Christina's departure, the Townleys were able to show her much of our country. In June, they took her on a 14-day trip west to the Badlands, Mt. Rushmore, the Grand Tetons and Yellowstone National Park. Following that trip they went on a camping trip in the Thumb area, a canoeing trip, and also spent one day in Sault Ste. Marie taking the locks boat trip.

The Townleys will miss Christina and report a most enjoyable experience having her as a part of their family.

Frederic Business Association

The Frederic Business Association met Wednesday, July 31st, with 10 members present.

The Homecoming was the main topic of discussion. The Association decided to purchase a two-wheel sidewalk bicycle to be used as a gate prize to be given away Sunday, August 10th, to some lucky child. The other free prizes that will be given away at the Homecoming will be furnished by the Frederic business people.

The Association would like to give their congratulations to the Frederic Branch of the Grayling State Bank, who held their Grand Opening on Saturday, August 2nd. They had a nice day and lots of people turned out to see the new bank.

Mercy! Heavens to Betsy, Holy Molee, gee, golly, whiz and all the other expressions this paper will print—boy, did last week's editorial efforts get me into deep "water". How was I to know there were two "Ginger's" in town. The one I wrote about was the one who harasses the customers at the Plaza, would just as soon throw an ice cube at you as put it in your glass, and has even been known to follow you to the john, where her threats, outside the door, have a distinct effect on your being able to do what you went in there for in the first place. You never know what that gal might do.

Anyway, Saturday afternoon I was at the Arrowhead Inn on Dooster Club business and very quickly learned that the barmaid there was also named "Ginger". I had always called her Virginia, her name. Fortunately there were three people there who knew about the other Ginger and what I had written about. They came to my rescue: my apologies were fast and profuse, believe me. And I apologize again to the Arrowhead's Ginger for the embarrassment I caused her. Both Gingers are good friends, but as for the Plaza Ginger I offer my sympathy - to her boss.

Then there's Al and Jessie's Restaurant's Marge. She and her boss caught me unawares. Marge had a meat tenderizing hammer and Al had a grin that almost split his face. I was doomed; I knew it. My friend, Bud Gould, had set that deal up. Of course, he's trying to protect himself, 'cause I found out that Marge had NOT gotten even with Bud or Fred Bear. Anyway, Marge did not tenderize old Jack with her hammer - saying that she didn't want to dirty up a fine restaurant utensil. I know full well that some day I am going to have to "face the music" there. I just hope that I'm not forced to dance to it.

Bob Meaker died last week, suddenly and without suffering - thank God. Bob was a nice guy who gave a damn about other people. At the time of his retirement from Bear Archery several years ago, he had been with Fred longer than any other employee. In fact, he came up from Detroit with Fred in 1947. If my memory is right, Fred came back from Florida for the retirement party at Bear Mt's. Polyhedron Lodge. But Bob never really retired. He was seen often around the archery in the years which followed, tools on his belt, working on some problem which only he could solve. He was a ham radio operator of great ability, and that ability spread to his playing the organ quite often at the American Legion. He just could not stand not being busy. I personally shall miss him. People like Bob Meaker don't show up on this earth too often.

JP-

Last week some guy in this town tried to get me canned from my job. I'm not sure who it was, but both of my suspects have been friends. Maybe some day I can return the favor.

JP-

Plants, flowers and other assorted flora and I just aren't compatible. I have a plant inside the house which was suffering. I even tried talking to it. Nothing. It kept fading away, so I moved it to another room. It flourished. Now it is back on my desk not doing well at all. I don't think it likes me. Guess I gotta move it again.

JP-

Notes: Friend Dawg's ears are coming along fairly well - due to a vile smear the vet gave me. The swallows are all flying now - one even got into the house. I gently removed it from its struggles to get through the window and placed it back outside. The momma came over, took a whiff, picked at it for a minute and the two took off. I was a little bit worried that maybe she'd ignore it. This column is awfully late and the Editor is going to be equally upset, but, after all, he can't expect miracles from me.

"Main Stream Musing"

WEDDED BLITZ
(By Jaymee Seidel)

Magazines are forever torturing us with those self - scrutinizing quizzes. You know, like "Are You Really Right For Each Other?" The articles invariably ask questions such as, how much does it hurt you when he forgets your anniversary? Or, when he wants to spend the tax rebate on a sailboat and you desperately need new living room carpet, who wins?

Anniversary, shm anniversary. After a couple of years, wives become so adept at hinting that only a true clod could forget his anniversary. And as for that tax rebate, in these inflationary times, any windfalls have to go for overdue bills, so the sailboat and the carpet can both stay in the store.

More to the point, I think, are some of the real questions that have surfaced in years of talking with other wives. Here's a sample from my Better Test for Marriage:

1. If you discover your mate is allergic to snow shovels, should you a) steal from the grocery money and pay a boy to shovel it, b) do it yourself, or c) rely on your Great Dane with the nervous kidney to keep some paths worn around the house?

2. When you discover he snores, will you: a) start the elbowing, pinching, and pin-poking routine, b) call the carpenter to build another bedroom on the house, or c) lie there counting the minutes until sunrise, when you can toss your canning lids, the family silver, and the sugar bowl cash into a suitcase and hop a bus for parts unknown?

3. Besides a cut finger, which of these household emergencies could be met with a Band-Aid? a) leaky faucet b) vacuum sweeper attachments that keep falling off, c) a talkative child, d) loose chair rung, e) all of the above.

4. Rank these major causes of child behavior problems in order of their importance: a) spoiling by grandparents, b) moon in wrong phase, c) bad influence of the neighbors' children, and d) additives in Kool-Aid.

5. If your husband emerged from the bathroom one morning wearing a pair of pantyhose over his left ear, a girdle on his head, and an expression of purple rage on his face, how would you react? a) Say, "Oh, silly old me! Did I leave those wet things there again?" b) rush to your room and start packing, or c) look delighted and exclaim, "Gloria Steinem would be proud of you, dear, picking up after me for a change."

Members and friends will donate the baked goods and all during the day items will be brought to our booth so come often and buy. As we all know, our "cooks" can certainly make delicious pies, cookies, cakes, bread, coffee-cake, etc. Encourage all your friends to come and visit us also. With "Direct Deposit" At First Savings

Direct Deposit is the newest social security service for persons who receive social security benefits. It means that, effective September 1, 1975, the Federal Government will deposit your social security payment direct to your account each month.

And that means more convenience, more security and more money for you. Convenience, because you save time and effort. Security, because your funds are always there when you want and need them. And there's no need to worry about your check being lost or stolen. Money, because from day of deposit to day of withdrawal, your funds automatically earn 5 1/4% daily interest, the highest allowed by law.

So, if you could use more social security, and these days who couldn't, sign up for Direct Deposit at your nearby office of First Savings and Loan. It takes you less than five minutes. And it gives you one of the nicest social security benefits you'll ever have.

Trout Unlimited Annual Dinner

The George W. Mason Chapter of Trout Unlimited held its annual membership dinner on Tuesday, July 22nd at the Chief Shoppenagons Hotel.

Bill Fraser and Bob Phillips from Trout Unlimited Council gave a demonstration of fly casting and described the fishing school held this summer by Trout Unlimited on the Boardman River. It was extremely successful and plans for its continuation and expansion are progressing.

Pete Mordick, Secretary, summarized the activities of the past year in his annual report. The young peoples fishing school sponsored by the George Mason Chapter has received rods and tackle through the generosity of Fred Bear of Grayling.

The drawing for prizes was highlighted by our youngest guest, Sherri Reed of Grayling, who drew the tickets. Prizes were provided by Scientific Angler Co., Berkeley & Co., Davis Jewelry, Pro-Mart, Dad's Sport Shop, Olson's and Skip's Sport Shop.

The committee responsible for dinner arrangements was Terry Anderson, Carroll Wert and Horace Failing.

CORWIN COUSIN REUNION HELD

The seventh annual reunion was held August 2nd at the old Corwin farm on Four Mile Road, with about 45 attending. Everyone had a good time after stuffing themselves with a large dinner. We still have a lot of good cooks in the family and more coming along to take up the slack. Ken and Ruth opened up their homemade ice cream to top it all off.

The oldest member present was Forrest Barber of Grayling and the youngest was Noah Tracy at 5½ months (my great-grandson), who with his mother traveled the furthest (from Seattle, Wash.).

All officers were retained for another year. Hoping to see more next year.

Your host and president,
